Invite you to a special presentation on

The Asian American Vote 2012

During the 2012 Presidential Elections, 9,096 Asian American voters participated in the nation's largest nonpartisan multilingual exit poll. It was conducted in twelve Asian languages and English in 37 cities across 14 states – NY, NJ, MA, PA, VA, MD, MI, IL, GA, LA, FL, TX, NV, CA, and Washington, DC.

The exit poll reveals vital information about Asian American voting patterns that is often overlooked in mainstream voter surveys.

At this special presentation, comparative information will be given about the Asian American vote in the Presidential and Congressional elections, concerns about key issues, first-time voters, and profiles of the Asian American vote by ethnicity, nativity, party enrollment, age, and English proficiency.
